

NACRO E2E MECHANICS PROGRAMMES 2009

Do you work with 16 – 18 year olds interested in a career in the motor trade?

In partnership with Futurepathways and local employers Nacro Training Leeds offer engaging and fulfilling courses aimed at preparing young people for apprenticeships, employment and further education.

Each programme is made up of work placements (organised by Nacro), literacy and numeracy, health and safety, key skills and personal and social development.

Learners work towards nationally recognised mechanics qualifications to reinforce skills learned whilst at placement with one of our partner employers. They are then supported into an apprenticeship or employment by our highly trained staff.

Referrals are taken all year round and can be made by contacting the Course Leader on the details below.

All overalls and personal protective clothing are provided free of charge

Information for Applicants

- All applicants must meet with the Course Leader before starting
- Usual E2E and EMA eligibility rules apply
- There are no restrictions on who can apply, though a strong interest in a career in the motor trade is essential.

Case Study

Rob Mitchell

Rob receiving his Health & Safety and Level 2 Adult Literacy certificates with his new manager at Renault UK.

Joined E2E: May 2008

Prior Achievement: Sat several GCSEs but got no higher mark than a grade 'E'. He was also at Entry Level 3 for both literacy and numeracy.

Background: Rob did not enjoy school very much and had always preferred to learn practical skills that he could use in employment. He had been in trouble with the police on several occasions.

Career Aspirations: To be an apprentice then full time Master Fitter.

Achievements whilst on E2E: Adult Literacy Level 2, Adult Numeracy Level 1, Level 2 Certificate in Health & Safety in the Workplace and Application of Number Key Skill.

Progression: Even in this current difficult economic climate Rob was able to use the qualifications and skills learned at Nacro and with his work placement at National Tyres to pass three rounds of interviews, beating many other applicants, to become an Apprentice Master Fitter with Renault UK. Rob so far has exceeded Renault's expectations and continues to impress his manager with his ability and hard work.
